Today You are loved, you are thought of, you are prayed for. Every day is today.

Lord, thank you that there are people in my life who love me and care for me... who are thinking of me and praying for me...every single day. Let this be the fuel that keeps me going, that keeps me uplifted and moving forward.

Keep me mindful that you love me beyond what I could possibly imagine and that you have placed each person in my life; for a reason, a season or a lifetime.

Amen
